

Blacks Disproportionately Harmed by Fluorides and Fluoridated Water

This is truly evil--and the CDC and others knew it and did not do a thing to send out warnings or lift a finger to stop it: (I think this is an outrage!!! And to make matters even worse fluorosis is just not a cosmetic defect--it is a sign of systemic fluoride poisoning and everything else that entails :

WITHOUT YOUR KNOWLEDGE OR CONSENT--THIS IS NOT ONLY WRONG BUT IS ACTUALLY PHYSICALLY HARMING YOU AND YOUR LOVED ONES!

I am one of the millions of people whose health has been devastated by the artificial fluoridation of municipal water supplies. The chemical used is a heavily contaminated unrefined hazardous toxic industrial waste product.

Since the majority of our public water supplies are now artificially fluoridated chances are that you and your own families and loved ones are being exposed to this extremely hazardous chemical. Since it is absorbed directly through the skin every time you shower, wash your hands etc. drinking bottled water will not protect you or your loved ones from the extremely damaging effects of this toxic and heavily contaminated chemical additive--

"Fluoride is readily absorbed through the skin (and inhaled). Two-thirds of the fluoride we take into our bodies using fluoridated public water comes from bathing and wearing clothes washed in it. Drinking fluoride-free water in a fluoridated district only reduces fluoride intake by about a third."

Dr. Paul Connett of the Fluoride Action Network was interviewed for a new video on the subject by Dr. Mercola. If you scroll down below the video (which is a must watch) there is a write up on the issue that will shock you!

SOME INFORMATIVE QUOTES ON THIS SUBJECT--

?More people have died in the last 30 years from cancer connected with fluoridation than all the military deaths in the entire history of the United States.? -Dr. Dean Burk, Ph.D., National Cancer Institute

?When historians come to write about this period, they will single out fluoridation as the single biggest mistake in public policy that we've ever had.?

-Dr. Paul Connett, Ph.D., biochemist

?Fluoridation is the greatest fraud that has ever been perpetrated, and it has been perpetrated on more people than any other fraud has.?

-Dr. Albert Schartz, Ph.D., Nobel Laureate

?Sodium fluoride is a very toxic chemical, acting as an enzyme poison, direct irritant and calcium inactivator. It reacts with growing tooth enamel and with bones to produce irreversible damage.?

-Dr. Granville Knight, M.D., former president of the American Academy of Nutrition

?I am appalled at the prospect of using water as a vehicle for drugs. Fluoride is a corrosive poison that will produce serious effects on a long-range basis. Any attempt to use water this way is deplorable.?

-Dr. Charles Gordon Hyed, M.D., former president of the American Medical Association

?Fluoridation is the greatest case of scientific fraud of this century, if not of all time.?

-Dr. Robert Carton, Ph.D., former EPA toxicologist and author of Corruption and Fraud at the EPA

?Dentists know from their required studies in biochemistry that fluoride is one of the most deadly poisons known to man.?

October 2, 2007 -- Fluoride, the controversial chemical added to city water supplies to help prevent cavities, now has three strikes against it in having harmful effects in African Americans.

Strike number one: A blue ribbon panel of scientists has identified kidney patients and diabetics as being especially susceptible to harm from ingested fluorides. Blacks suffer disproportionate amounts of kidney disease and diabetes in America. Strike number two: Information from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention shows blacks disproportionately at risk for disfiguring teeth damage from fluoride, compared to whites. (See photos of moderate and severe dental fluorosis at: <http://www.fluoridealert.org/dental-fluorosis.htm> <<http://www.fluoridealert.org/dental-fluorosis.htm>> .) And strike number three: The American Dental Association and the CDC are now suggesting that parents of newborns may wish to consider using unfluoridated water when mixing infant milk formula for their babies -- but they offer no outreach to tell black parents this information, and no funds to pay for minority and other low-income families to purchase other sources of water.

"I know the facts are embarrassing and potentially even lawsuit material against CDC, but it's not morally right that CDC is not telling African Americans of their multiple, intersecting risks for harm from fluoride," says Daniel Stockin, a public health professional of The Lillie Center, Inc., a firm working to educate Americans about harm from ingested fluorides. "How does CDC continue to say that fluoridated water is safe and effective 'for all'? Do African Americans not count?" he asks.

Stockin points to disturbing information in a report last year from the National Research Council that acknowledged diabetics and kidney patients to be "susceptible subpopulations" that are especially vulnerable to harmful effects from fluoride ingestion. According to the National Kidney Foundation, blacks comprise 28.4% of kidney failure patients, but number only 13% of the U.S. population. The American Diabetes Association states that African Americans are 1.8 times more likely to have diabetes than non-Hispanic whites. Increased risk from fluoride for kidney patients and diabetics logically points towards increased risk for blacks, Stockin says.

Stockin also asks why a chart showing disproportionate harm to African Americans from moderate and severe dental fluorosis, a staining and pitting of teeth indicative of overexposure to fluoride as a child, is buried at the very back of a review published by CDC and has not been shared with the black community. (See <http://www.cdc.gov/mmwr/preview/mmwrhtml/ss5403a1.htm> .) He also notes that CDC this year quietly added information on a little-noticed web page that mothers of newborns may wish to use unfluoridated water when mixing powdered infant milk formula. (http://www.cdc.gov/fluoridation/safety/infant_formula.htm#1) CDC has not issued a press release about the subject. "Millions of parents in minority, low-income, and limited-English communities are affected by CDC's change in policy, but these families have neither the facts about fluoride nor the funds to pay for unfluoridated bottled water or an expensive home water fluoride removal system," Stockin says.

The bad news about fluoride adds to a growing swell of sentiment against use of the chemical. The influential Canadian city of Quebec has voted to stop water fluoridation. In looking at fluoridation, Alaska's Juneau Empire newspaper recently wrote, "What about people who are more sensitive to the damaging effects of fluoride than the general population?" Eleven unions in EPA, representing 7,000 EPA lab workers, scientists, and others have called for the immediate nationwide halt to fluoridation. There are petitions now to end fluoridation, and a call for congressional hearings (<http://www.fluorideaction.net>).

So why does CDC continue to promote fluoridation? Why has CDC not responded to the ethics charges its ethics committees received in August concerning fluoridation? And why aren't black communities.
